- 1) If you do not provide a bank account, and the order payment is made by prepayment to the bank account, the refund amount will be refunded in the same way as the money was transferred to the store's account. In the case of payment on delivery, please provide your bank account number or express your will to return the amount by postal transfer. The customer who returns the goods is responsible for errors in the bank form.
- 2) The cost of additional services will be charged from the amount of the refund.
- 3) In the event of 3 consecutive product exchanges in the same order, the customer will be charged for the next shipment.
- 4) If the product for which the exchange is to be made is cheaper, the store is obliged to return the amount of the overpayment to the Customer's bank account given below. If the product is more expensive, the customer should pay the underpayment to the store's bank account after contacting the store staff.
